14	Observation made During Visit:- a) During the inspection, the complainant stated that the issue is smaller stack located near it, which is allegedly causing a major nuisance. However, upon inspection, it was verified that the said stack belongs to a ETP Sludge Dryer unit. The emission from this stack is primarily water vapor (steam). Due to the evaporation of high moisture content, it appears as thick white smoke from a distance; however, it is actually steam and not fuel-combustion smoke. b) During the inspection, it was observed that the operational noise causing a significant disturbance in the surrounding area was originating from the MEE (Multi-Effect Evaporator).

- c) The MEE unit is located near the backside boundary wall of the premises.
- d) Consequently, the industry representative has been directed to install a suitable temporary shed or acoustic barrier along the boundary wall to mitigate and control the noise levels.

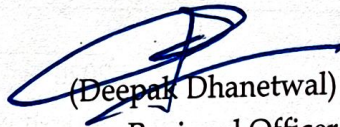

Submitted for the information and further necessary action.
